BLACKMAILERS

In Grand Jury Drag Net, and Child Deserter Must Answer for Shortcomings.

The grand jury of the February term imon Pleas court, reported to Judge Layton last Tuesday afternoon, after a short session of only a little over a day.

Thirteen witnesses were examined, covering five cases. Two bills were pre-sented and three cases ignored. They reported the jail in the usual excellent condition and prisoners well cared for.

The indictments were against W. F

Puckett and Robert Sauntman for black mail, and against Albert J. Schaffelt, of Cincinnati, for non-support and abandon ment of minor children

Among the cases ignored was one as-sault and battery, the charges being preferred to the jury last Monday afternoor by Street Commissioner Barney Gast, after he had been worsted in an alteration with Contractor George Heffner.

MURLIN SUCCEEDS THOMS IN WEST BUILDING

Harry Murlin, of Center township, popular young teacher of the county has been employed by the local Board of Education to teach the eight grade at the West Side building. This grade has been in charge of Prof. Wm. Thoms, of Lima, since the opening of the school Last week Mr. Thoms suffered an attack of the 'grip, which has left him in such condition that he felt he couldn't keep up the school work, and on Monday he sent in his resignation to the Board. Mr. Thoms is getting along in years, being a veteran of the Civil War. He was one of the most able instructors in this section of the state, and first taught in this city as principal of the East Building some twenty years ago, and he has a host of ex-pupils here who will regret to learn of his illness. The eighth grade pupils, who have been en joying a week's vacation, will be called to work next Monday, when the new teacher will take up his duties.

CHARGES NOT SUSTAINED IN 'SQUIRE'S COURT

ARE CAUGHT NOW IT'S JUDGE O. RAUDABAUGH Diaz Rebels Check Fierce On-

It is now Probate Judge Orvelle Raudbaugh and ex-Judge P. F. Dugan.

Last Monday witnessed another official change at the court-house, when Orvelle Raudabaugh took up the duties of the Probate Court laid down by Judge Dugan, who finished his second term

The new judge is fairly well acquainted with a good portion of the people of the county through the campaign made y himself last fall for the office, though this was by no means his first campaignng, for he has been active in past when work was needed on the firing line, and rom a partisan standpoint he has reaped what was coming to him.

That he will prove his fitness for the office his friends all agree. While a partisan and a 33 degree Democrat, he is now the servant of all the people of the county and wishes to be so regarded. Mr. Raudabaugh will be found to be acmmodating, courteous and painstaking with all who may have business in his office, and a clean and able adviser in matters that will naturally come before him as an official. He will grow in the estimation of the people of the county every day he is in office

Judge Dugan leaves the office of Proate Judge with honor to himself and to his party. He came out of the office with more friends than he went in with. He was knocked pretty hard by members of his own party for various reasons, but he plugged away in a straight way and won most of them back. His official conduct has been above reproach. He served the people faithfully. He made good.

PROPERTY-OWNERS LOSE OUT IN CLAIMS FOR DAMAGES

J. H. Koch, of Ohio City, F. C. Keuthan, of St. Marys, and S. W. Wright, of Delphos, the commission appointed by the State Board of Public Works, which recently heard the claim cases in which land owners along the St. Marys river in Dublin and Union ownships sought to recover $10,000 damage from the state for injury to their lands and crops by high water during June, 1912, met at St. Marys on the 6th inst, to render their decision in the cases. The land owners sought to prove that the damage was due to negligence of the state in failing to prevent the overflow of water at that time from the canal

Another Day of Desperate Fighting In

With renewed vigor and daring which at times almost reached the foolhardy stage. President Madero's troopers, fight. heavily reinforced, began another attack on General Felix Diaz's forces of tired and spent rebels. But the latter, despite their weariness, stubbornly resisted the fierce onslaughts of the loyal troops, meeting their attacks with a sweeping rain of shot and shell and effectively holding the position which they have occupied since the beginning of the revolt in the capital city.

General Diaz opened fire on the tall buildings within range of the arsenal and Y. M. C. A. buildings, apparently intending to sweep from them the guns and gun crews stationed by General Huerta and other federal leaders.

The loss of life in the ranks of the federal columns has been even heavier than it was Tuesday. It is estimated that there were no less than 1,000 killed andd 1,500 wounded, with the federals suffering the heaviest losses. Reliable advices coming from the inside of the Diaz lines give the having set fire to his saloon, which rebel losses in the arsenal building was burned Jan 23. When General Huerta abandone his headquarters at the Belem prison he only left a small force to protect this important point, and a few hours afterward the prison was assaulte and captured by the rebels. Between 3,000 and 4,000 prisoners were liber ated and are now at liberty.

A federal battery was planted with in a block from the Cable building and throughout the day the hot fire had been directed by it on the rebel ad vance posts and fortified centers Shot and shell have struck the build ing and several of the large plateglass windows have been shattered by flying missiles. tain Robert Scott's Antarctic ship, the Terra Nova, with her flag at balfmast, arrived here with the survivoral of the Scott expedition on board. The survivors had very little to say.

London, Feb. 11. - All England is depressed by the disaster that befel Captain Robert F. Scott, British explorer and veteran of two Antarctic expeditions, together with four members of his party, who died as they were returning from the south pole.

A blizzard overtook the party fresh from their success and in its grip they perished. Besides Captain Scott, these are the men that died: Dr. Edward Wilson, Lieutenant R. H. Bowers, Captain L. E. G. Oates and Petty Officer E. Evans.

The first reports received here made the disaster seem more terrible than it really is, for they told of the death of "Captain Scott and his entire party."

More than 50 scientists and explor ers were left in the Antarctic by the Terra Nova upon her return to New Zealand, and it was thought at first that all of them had perished, but later it appeared that the men of the Terra Nova had found but five of their colleagues frozen to death. Cantain Scott came to the very sno at the south pole where Roald Amundsen, the Norwegian explorer, had stood one month and one day before the British expedition arrived. The Norwegian flag which Amundsen had planted there was found flying by the British naval officer. Documents found on the body of the dead tell these facts.

Captain Scott, Dr. Wilson and Lieutenant Bowers died of exposure and starvation in a blizzard on March 29, 11 miles from the "one ton" depot and 155 miles from Cape Evans. Captain Oates of the Inniskillin dragoons dled of exposure on March 17. Seaman Evans died from concussion of the brain on Feb. 17. The Terra Nova reported that the other members of he expedition were well.
